DR. ALFONSO ELDER, President
North Carolina College
1948-1963

DEDICATION

"Lives of great men all remind us
We can make our lives sublime,
And, departing, leave behind us
Footprints on the sands of time . . ."
— Longfellow

Truly Longfellow's words summarize beautifully the service Dr. Alfonso Elder has given to the college community. For fifteen years, Dr. Elder has been the initial force in stimulating student self-direction and in stressing that North Carolina College provide a first-rate liberal arts education.

In creating an atmosphere for students self-direction, President Elder played a leading role in establishing such organizations as the Student Government Association, women's and men's assemblies, and the Student Welfare Committee. He also motivated student self-direction by appointing student representatives to such standing committees as the Lyceum, Religious Activities, and Forum.

Dr. Elder further displayed a genuine interest in the students. For example, in his choice of a Dean of Students, he chose a young man, one whose youth granted him deep insight into the problems of students. President Elder has also fostered a special scholarship fund for students who attain the "A" honor roll.

In guiding the growth and development of North Carolina College into the great educational institution it is today, Dr. Elder expanded the academic program of the college and assembled an outstanding faculty. And he has continually requested that the Legislature grant NCC the best possible equipment. To further strengthen the program of our liberal arts college, President Elder has encouraged educational choir and band tours and has contributed funds to enrich the programs of campus organizations.

As of July, 1963, Dr. Elder — having announced his retirement early in November, 1962 — will no longer serve as President of North Carolina College. As a token of appreciation for his concern for the students and for his untiring service to our institution, the 1963 EAGLE is dedicated to Dr. Alfonso Elder.

FOREWORD

Through the gates of North Carolina College pass the leaders and followers of tomorrow. Each of us enters the Institution with different ideas, ambitions, and beliefs. At first, we perhaps find that life behind the gates presents the opportunities for making new friends, finding new social activities, and learning by new experiences. Then, as life around us gathers momentum, we find that there is also a new phase of academic learning that occurs.

Becoming aware of this new phase, we realize that "Life is composed of two parts: that which is passed — a dream, that which is to come — a wish." Day by day we strive to fulfill that wish. We study, we play, we learn. A part of that wish is fulfilled after four long years of "sweet, toil, and blood." The other part of that wish is a pending challenge.

Yet, there has to be a memory — a lasting memory of the struggle from beginning to end. Where can we find such a blessed and lasting memory of our college life, of EAGLE-LAND? — Here, O mighty reader within the pages of the 1963 EAGLE — Handle it with care, for it is fragile and it must serve for years to come. Read it; cherish it. It is a reminder of that which was passed — a dream; a symbol of that which is to come — a wish.

ADMINISTRATION

Our administration is a body which functions for the good of the students. It is sometimes loudly criticized, but in the final analysis, it is the one unit on our campus responsible for long-range plans to make North Carolina College bigger and better.

"Thousands of men breathe, move and live; pass off the stage of life and are heard no more. Why? They did not a particle of good in the world; none were blest by them, none could point to them as the instrument of their redemption; their light went out in darkness, and they were not remembered more than the insects of yesterday. Will you thus live and die, O Man immortal? Live for something."

— Chambers

ORGANIZATIONS

ORGANIZATIONS EDITOR

Annie Anderson

The cliché, "Variety is the spice of life," adequately describes the atmosphere on the campus of North Carolina College. The Eagles find their variety of life in various organizations and clubs that have been established to meet their needs and desires. These organizations and clubs embody the educational, cultural, religious, and social life of the students. Such organizations as the Student Congress, YWCA, choir, band, NAACP, and the SNEA provide avenues for the students to develop their leadership potentials and learning experiences.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT CABINET

Vice-President James Ferguson and President Lynwood Walker make long-range plans for student activities.

The Student Government affords opportunity to participate democratically in the government of certain extracurricular activities affecting the entire student body of the Institution. Upon registration, each student becomes a member of the Student Government and is invited to participate in selection of representatives to the agencies which carry out appropriate governmental activities.

ENGLISH CLUB

GREEK GOVERNING COUNCIL

Twice a year sororities and fraternities on our campus initiate new members into their organizations. These Greek organizations enable students to achieve their aspirations to become a part of one great body working for a common goal. Belonging to a fraternity or sorority can cause a student to enhance his awareness of responsibilities which will be needed to face the world. Their names, formed from the Greek alphabets, suggest Classicists — the mighty Greeks.

SPORTS

SPORTS EDITOR:

JOHN B. HENDERSON

Athletics on our campus emphasizes that intellectual development should be accompanied by physical development in order for a student to acquire total education. Some of the chief goals of such sports as basketball, football, tennis and track are to train one to work harmoniously with others and to think and act under pressure.

Court of BEAUTY

Charm, poise and personality are but three external essentials for membership in the Court of Beauty. But the most essential factor that assures one of membership in the court is the internal beauty found in the heart. This essential quality radiates daily from the heart and reveals the real self to others. Indeed, we realize that the young ladies selected to this court have the fountain of beauty in their hearts.
